IT TOOK TEN INNINGS

To Decide the Game Between East Liverpool and Scio.

AN EXCITING GAME ON SATURDAY

The Home Team Won After a Hard Struggle by a Score of 8 to 6--The Best Contest Seen on the Home Grounds For Two Years.

The most exciting and best game of ball that has been seen in the city for two years past was the contest Saturday afternoon between the East Liverpool club and the Scio college team.

The teams were evenly matched and it took ten innings to decide the contest. The game started with J. Reark at the bat. He received a base on balls; Joe Carey hit a little one to the first baseman and Reark was ran down between first and second. Twaddle knocked a fly to W. Beetham and the side was retired. The first man up for Scio was Price, and he struck out. Gray then struck out, but Finch missed the ball and he was thrown out at first. W. Beetham then got a hit, but Gaston knocked the ball to Reark, who threw him out at first.

Second inning—McNutt came first and made a hit, stole second and went to third on a wild throw. Finch knocked a fly to the left fielder and was out, and Kennedy knocked one to Wood, that player making an error. Heckathorne came to the bat and made a hit, scoring McNutt and sending Kennedy around to third. A moment later he stole second. C. Reark then struck out and McShane knocked a fly to W. Beetham. Result, one run.

Wood was the first man to bat for Scio, knocked a grounder to Heckathorne and was out. Salady struck out and Phipps mad a hit, going to second on a passed ball. E. Beetham knocked a fly to Twaddle and side was retired.

Third inning—J. Reark knocked a fly to W. Beetham and was out. Carey sent a grounder to the same man and was out at first. Twaddle here received a base on balls, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a passed ball. McNutt struck out, but Price dropped the ball and he was thrown out at first. Two runs for East Liverpool.

In Scio's half, Stewart struck out, Price received a base on balls and stole second, but died there, as Gray knocked a fly to Kennedy and was out, and W. Beetham followed by sending one to C. Reark, the side retiring on the play.

Fourth inning—Finch was robbed out of a nice hit by a phenomenal one-handed catch by W. Beetham. Kennedy made a hit and stole second; Heckathorne out, pitcher to first; C. Reark made a hit and Kennedy scored. McShane went out, second to first. Score, three to nothing.

In Scio's half Gaston sent a fly to Carey and was out; Wood went out from pitcher to first. Salady made a hit, stole second, and went to third on a wild pitch. Phipps received a base on balls. E. Beetham hit to Carey, who threw Salady out at home.

Fifth inning—J. Reark made a hit and stole second. Carey struck out. Twaddle went out on a foul fly to Price and McNutt went out from second to first.

Stewart opened the half for Scio by making a bunt, going to second on a wild throw by Finch, and going all the way home on a wild throw by McNutt. As the ball had been blocked, he was sent back to third by Umpire McShane. Price went out from McShane to Heckathorne, and Gray made a hit, scoring Stewart. W. Beetham made a three base hit and scored Gray. Gaston made a hit to right, scored Beetham, and went to second, Heckathorne allowing Reark's throw to go through him. Wood went out on a grounder to Heckathorne, and Salady followed suit by knocking a fly to the same man and the agony was over, the score now standing 3 to 3.

Sixth inning—Finch made a hit and went to second on a passed ball, stole third and scored on an error of the third baseman. Kennedy knocked a fly to W. Beetham and was out. Heckathorne and Reark struck out. Score, 4 to 3 in our favor.

For Scio—Gray made a hit and went to second on W. Beetham out from Carey to Heckathorne. Gaston made a three base hit and scored Gray. Wood knocked one to Kennedy who threw to Heckathorne, and he was out. Heckathorne threw to Finch to head Gaston off, who was trying to score on the play, but Finch dropped the ball and he was safe. Salady then knocked a foul fly to Finch, and the side was out. Score 5 to 4 forninst us.

McShane hit to the middle fielder, and he juggled the ball, and finally dropped it, Reark going to second on the play. J. Reark knocked a fly to the first baseman and was out, and Joe Carey went out from third to first. Score 6 to 5 in favor of Liverpool.

Scio went to bat, and Phipps went out on a grounder to Heckathorne. E. Beetham knocked one to J. Reark and was thrown out at first. Stewart struck out, but Finch droped the ball and he was safe on first; he stole second, but staid there, as Price went out from Reark to Heckathorne.

Ninth inning—Twaddle struck out, but Price dropped the ball and he was thrown out at first, McNutt made a hit, but in an attempt to purloin second was thrown out by the catcher. Finch then struck out, and the side was retired.

Scio came in for their last half, determined to do or die. Gray knocked a grounder to Reark, who made a nice pickup, but a poor throw, and the runner was safe on first. He stole second a minute later. W. Beetham then struck out and Gaston made a hit, scoring Gray and tieing the score, amid the howls of Scio's rooters. Wood went out, from Kennedy to Heckathorne, and Salady hit a grounder to Heckathorne, retiring the side. Score 6 to 6, and an extra inning necessary to finish the game.

Tenth inning—Kennedy was first up and received a base on balls. Heckathorne hit to the first baseman and was out, and C. Reark came to the bat and knocked a nice two-bagger to center field, scoring Kennedy. McShane went out on a fly to the left fielder. J. Reark came to the bat and made a base hit, C. Reark going to third. J. Reark started to steal second and Price threw to catch him, but they miscalculated their men, and C. Reark came home and J. Reark was safe on second. NOTES.

The game was certainly a dandy, and should have drawn a much larger crowd.

The playing of W. Beetham at second for Scio was the kind of ball playing a crank likes to look at. He played second base like a professional, and got everything that came within any distance of him. His one handed catch of Finch's liner in the fourth inning was one of the prettiest catches ever seen on the West End park.

The Scio boys are all gentlemen, and are the kind of ball players that the spectators like to see. The East Liverpool people will welcome them back at any time. This is the first time their team has met defeat, but they took it good humoredly and said they had no kick coming.

The kick in the fifth inning over the blocked ball was misunderstood by the

A REPUBLICAN SPEAKS

He Denounces No. 4 and the Other Tools.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE REVIEW

He Tells of Men Who Work From the Standpoint of Malice and Hate—He Scratched the Republican Ticket on the Bible Question.

The following communication speaks for itself, and needs no comment at the hands of the management of the NEWS REVIEW. We return thanks to the writer for good wishes:

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I have been watching the trend of events in this city of East Liverpool very carefully. I am a constant reader of your bright, spicy and newsy sheet. I am a member of the McKinley club, and I was delighted when that club adopted a series of resolutions warmly commending the NEWS REVIEW for its staunch Republicanism. I was engaged very earnestly in the battle over the placing of the Bible in our public schools, and I cannot too warmly commend the course your paper took in that struggle. You did but your duty, and you will have your full reward. I knew that, through your action against the candidates on the Republican ticket in the Third ward, you would make bitter enemies, men of influence and power, who would do all they could to injure you, socially and financially. But I felt that, backed by a higher power, you would be able to stand against such enmity and malice, and I am glad to know that I was not mistaken in my man. I am a Republican, from center to circumference, and have cast many ballots in favor of my party. Previous to the late fight on the Bible question, I had never scratched my ticket; but I glory in the fact that I did scratch, on this last occasion, the names of the two men in the Third ward whom you failed to honor with a cross at the head of your paper, and I had a host of Republicans in my ward do the same thing, as was evidenced by the defeat of the two men named, who were compelled to retire from the board of education, in spite of the fact that they were supported by a very large portion of the Democratic voters in the ward, male and female. I am still a member of the McKinley club, although very much disgusted with the action of four members, men who so far forgot themselves as (when an opportune moment occurred) to cause the commendation of the NEWS REVIEW to be rescinded. I am a parliamentarian, and delight to work under systematic ruling. I was not present when the quartette effected their illegal work against your paper. Had I been present, there would have been fun on deck. I was very sorry to read your statement that you would make no protest, for I know, in company with many other members of the club, that the action of those four men would have been declared null and void, and they would have been shown up in their true colors. Three of the four were hot at you for the stand on the Bible question, while the fourth one is your bitter personal enemy, and aimed to have you expelled from the club. One of the members held, and still holds a petty office, the gift of the board of education. He expected the members of the old board to be re-elected, and he fought, as strongly as his limited intelligence would permit, against placing the Bible in the schools, to win favor with the board and superintendent. He will have his reward, here and hereafter. Excuse this long-drawn out communication, and let me sound a note of warning to you. Your "No Bible" enemies are not the only enemies you have. You have made hot enemies in the liquor league. They are now working in conjunction with the former fellows, and they have concocted the plot to raise the hue and cry that you went back on the Republican nominees at the late election, hoping thus to injure you and cause you to sell your interest in the NEWS REVIEW at a nominal figure, and themselves purchase the same, through other parties, and thus be able to control the paper and dictate its policy and utterances. Failing in this, they contemplate startidg a new daily paper, in the hope that they may be able to rally Republicans to their standard, force you to retire from the newspaper business in this city, and thus effect their object. Still further, they have been working with a certain class of unionists in East Liverpool, headed by a man who claims to be your friend, and he is to have supreme control of the proposed new plant, and rally to its standard the union men of the city, securing your subscribers and taking away from you all the job work which said class of unionists can control. This is their plan and plot. I know whereof I am writing. And, finally, they cannot succeed. You have done the right thing. You are and will be backed by a host of good men and women in East Liverpool, just as long as you continue in the course you have followed since coming to this city. You have the respect and esteem of a host of Republicans, members of the party which you claim to love so well. I am a business man. You have had my backing and done my work in the past. You shall have still more in the future. I know many more busisiness men in the city who have voiced the same sentiment as myself, and they will stand by what they say. They embrace merchants, professional men and manufacturers. I know, also, that your square dealing and union principles have made you a host of friends among the mechanics and laboring men and women of East Liverpool. Stand by the right, and for the best interests of this city and, under the blessing of God, we will aid you in defeating and circumventing your so-called powerful enemies.

REPUBLICAN."

ALMOST FATAL.

A Drug Clerk Put Up the Wrong Medicine.

Thomas Harsha, a mouldmaker and a prominent young clubman of the city, was very near death's door Friday of last week, owing to the carelessness of a drug clerk, who made a mistake and put up the wrong medicine. Harsha has been ill for some time with a mild attack of malarial fever, at the home of his parents on Fourth street. It was thought necessary to call in a physician, who prescribed for his patient. Sending for the medicine, Harsha took it according to directions, and soon after became deathly ill. Becoming greatly alarmed at the sudden change for the worse, the parents hastily summoned the attending physician, who, upon arriving, divined at a glance what was wrong. An examination of the drug showed that it was of a poisonous nature, and a mistake had been made in putting up the medicine. One more dose would have resulted in death. An antidote was administered at once and the patient soon placed beyond danger. Mr. Harsha is now recovering nicely and expects to be out soon.

STOLE A WATCH.

Whereabout of the Thief Unknown—The Authorities Notified.

Several days since, just as the steamer, Ford City, was about to take a trip to Pittsburg, a young man, a potter of the city, boarded the boat, and asked to be given a position as cook on the craft. He was told that there were no vacancies. The young man then requested to be permitted to journey as far as Rochester, agreeing to work about the boat in payment for the passage. This was granted, and arriving at the latter place the young man stepped ashore, and the Ford City steamed on up the river. Soon after one of the owners of the boat, having occasion to find out what time it was went to the cabin to get his watch, that had been left in a pocket of a pair of trousers hanging there. The watch, which was a gold one and valued at $100, was missing, and suspicion at once pointed towards the young man, who had just left the boat, as he had done some work in the cabin. As soon as possible the authorities were notified, but as yet no clue to the whereabouts of the supposed thief have been obtained.

A BIG BOY.

John Rose Dispenses Cigars With a Lavish Hand.

If the state of extravagance continues at the store of Rose & Dix as is existing today the firm will surely be bankrupt. Mr. Dix walked into his store this morning and found the place crowded with visitors, while numerous boxes of cigars lined the show cases. His partner, Mr. John Rose, was presiding behind the counter, and amid numerous gesticulations was gurgling: "Have a cigar—boy—take another—18 pounds—fill your pockets a boy! boy!! boy!!!" Investigation revealed that a bouncing boy had arrived at his home on Jefferson street, which was the cause of his lavishness. The stock of cigars in the store will have to be replenished.

Build Warehouse at Once.

The Union Planing mill received the contract for the building of the warehouse of the Metsch mill and will commence work on the new structure at once. The plans for the building proper are not finished and not until they are completed will the contract be let. Work on the stonework and foundation has been commenced.

FELL INTO THE RIVER

William Kirkham Drowned in the Ohio.

HIS BODY FOUND YESTERDAY

He Had Been Over the River With His Little Boy For the Purpose of Setting a Trot Line, and While Returning, Fell Out of the Skiff.

William Kirkham was drowned yesterday morning between 12 and 1 o'clock.

The gentleman has for some time past been going over the river for the purpose of setting trot lines, and on Saturday night went out for the same purpose, accompanied by his son, an eleven-year-old boy.

According to the story told by the boy, they were coming across the river when his father arose and was going to light his pipe, when he pitched headlong into the river over the bow of the skiff. The lad never saw anything of him after he went down, and commenced to cry for help, the boat in the meantime starting to float down stream. As the boy could not row, he started to paddle, still crying.

His cries were heard by a man who lives in a house boat by Thompson's pottery. The man at once launched his skiff and started for the place from which the cries came. Arriving at the spot he towed the boy to shore, where he heard the story, and the two started up town to secure the officers.

The officers arrived in a few minutes and went in search of some grappling irons for the purpose of dragging the river. Searching parties were out all night, and about 12:30 yesterday afternoon the body was found opposite Thompson's pottery, within a few feet of where the accident occurred.

When the body was found the left arm was raised above the head and one side of the body was contracted, as if he had been seized with paralysis. As Mr. Kirkham had been complaining of cramps for over a week past, it is supposed he was seized with them when he fell into the river, as the lad said his father had remarked "that he wished he was home, as he was sick," several times on the journey across the river.

An inquest was held by Squire Manley at his office yesterday afternoon and a verdict of accidental drowning found.

Deceased was aged 55 years and leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. He has been employed as a slip maker at the Dresden pottery for 10 years past, and was a sober, industrious employe of the factory, being considered one of their very best workmen.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence in California hollow, Reverend Whitehead officiating. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverview cemetery.

GOT THE TRUNK.

The Officer Induced the Landlord to Give it Up.

The little old blind lady from Georgia, clairvoyant, foreteller of the future, etc., who left this city several weeks ago for Merril's station, near Beaver, returned here this morning to demand her trunk, which she claimed Proprietor Allen, at whose place she boarded while here, refused to surrender to her. She was accompanied by another woman, who, seeing Officer Earl on the platform of the depot, beckoned him to their side, and he was told the story. The officer went to Allen and finally induced him to give up the trunk, which, for a time, he was unwilling to do, saying that he should be paid storage for it. Recovering the object desired, the blind lady and her companion returned by the next train.

STOLE SPECTACLES.

While the Fakir Was Absent the Thief Got in His Work.

Someone stole a valise containing spectacles from one of the fakirs' stands in the Diamond while the owner was away getting lunch Saturday night. A small boy was left to guard the treasured possessions, but a thief, with calm and audacious deliberation, coolly waved the youngster to one side and slipped out with the booty. Upon the fakir's return, and being told of the theft, he just raved for a time, but finally quieted down and reaped consolation in the dollars taken in from the susceptible ones, so easily induced to "bite."

The Homing Race.

The pigeon fly from Ada to this city yesterday was won by a bird owned by Herbert Smith. The distance was covered in 6 hours and 30 minutes.

Scio came in for their last half, determined to do or die. Gray knocked a grounder to Reark, who made a nice pickup, but a poor throw, and the runner was safe on first. He stole second a minute later. W. Beetham then struck out and Gaston made a hit, scoring Gray and tieing the score, amid the howls of Scio's rooters. Wood went out, from Kennedy to Heckathorne, and Salady hit a grounder to Heckathorne, retiring the side. Score 6 to 6, and an extra inning necessary to finish the game.

Tenth inning—Kennedy was first up and received a base on balls. Heckathorne hit to the first baseman and was out, and C. Reark came to the bat and knocked a nice two-bagger to center field, scoring Kennedy. McShane went out on a fly to the left fielder. J. Reark came to the bat and made a base hit, C. Reark going to third. J. Reark started to steal second and Price threw to catch him, but they miscalculated their men, and C. Reark came home and J. Reark was safe on second. Carey went out on a fly to Stewart. Score 6 to 8 in our favor.

Phipps, the first man up for Scio, struck out. E. Beetham went out, from Carey to Heckathorne, and Stewart also went out, from McShane to Heckathorne, and the game was over. Following is the score:

NOTES.

The game was certainly a dandy, and should have drawn a much larger crowd.

The playing of W. Beetham at second for Scio was the kind of ball playing a crank likes to look at. He played second base like a professional, and got everything that came within any distance of him. His one handed catch of Finch's liner in the fourth inning was one of the prettiest catches ever seen on the West End park.

The Scio boys are all gentlemen, and are the kind of ball players that the spectators like to see. The East Liverpool people will welcome them back at any time. This is the first time their team has met defeat, but they took it good humoredly and said they had no kick coming.

A REPUBLICAN SPEAKS

He Denounces No. 4 and the Other Tools.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE REVIEW

The following communication speaks for itself, and needs no comment at the hands of the management of the NEWS REVIEW. We return thanks to the writer for good wishes:

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW:—I have been watching the trend of events in this city of East Liverpool very carefully. I am a constant reader of your bright, spicy and newsy sheet. I am a member of the McKinley club, and I was delighted when that club adopted a series of resolutions warmly commending the NEWS REVIEW for its staunch Republicanism. I was engaged very earnestly in the battle over the placing of the Bible in our public schools, and I cannot too warmly commend the course your paper took in that struggle. You did but your duty, and you will have your full reward. I knew that, through your action against the candidates on the Republican ticket in the Third ward, you would make bitter enemies, men of influence and power, who would do all they could to injure you, socially and financially. But I felt that, backed by a higher power, you would be able to stand against such enmity and malice, and I am glad to know that I was not mistaken in my man. I am a Republican, from center to circumference, and have cast many ballots in favor of my party. Previous to the late fight on the Bible question, I had never scratched my ticket; but I glory in the fact that I did scratch, on this last occasion, the names of the two men in the Third ward whom you failed to honor with a cross at the head of your paper, and I had a host of Republicans in my ward do the same thing, as was evidenced by the defeat of the two men named, who were compelled to retire from the board of education, in spite of the fact that they were supported by a very large portion of the Democratic voters in the ward, male and female. I am still a member of the McKinley club, although very much disgusted with the action of four members, men who so far forgot themselves as (when an opportune moment occurred) to cause the commendation of the NEWS REVIEW to be rescinded. I am a parliamentarian, and delight to work under systematic ruling. I was not present when the quartette effected their illegal work against your paper. Had I been present, there would have been fun on deck. I was very sorry to read your statement that you would make no protest, for I know, in company with many other members of the club, that the action of those four men would have been declared null and void, and they would have been shown up in their true colors. Three of the four were hot at you for the stand on the Bible question, while the fourth one is your bitter personal enemy, and aimed to have you expelled from the club. One of the members held, and still holds a petty office, the gift of the board of education. He expected the members of the old board to be re-elected, and he fought, as strongly as his limited intelligence would permit, against placing the Bible in the schools, to win favor with the board and superintendent. He will have his reward, here and hereafter. Excuse this long-drawn out communication, and let me sound a note of warning to you. Your "No Bible" enemies are not the only enemies you have. You have made hot enemies in the liquor league. They are now working in conjunction with the former fellows, and they have concocted the plot to raise the hue and cry that you went back on the Republican nominees at the late election, hoping thus to injure you and cause you to sell your interest in the NEWS REVIEW at a nominal figure, and themselves purchase the same, through other parties, and thus be able to control the paper and dictate its policy and utterances. Failing in this, they contemplate startidg a new daily paper, in the hope that they may be able to rally Republicans to their standard, force you to retire from the newspaper business in this city, and thus effect their object. Still further, they have been working with a certain class of unionists in East Liverpool, headed by a man who claims to be your friend, and he is to have supreme control of the proposed new plant, and rally to its standard the union men of the city, securing your subscribers and taking away from you all the job work which said class of unionists can control. This is their plan and plot. I know whereof I am writing. And, finally, they cannot succeed. You have done the right thing. You are and will be backed by a host of good men and women in East Liverpool, just as long as you continue in the course you have followed since coming to this city. You have the respect and esteem of a host of Republicans, members of the party which you claim to love so well. I am a business man. You have had my backing and done my work in the past. You shall have still more in the future. I know many more busisiness men in the city who have voiced the same sentiment as myself, and they will stand by what they say. They embrace merchants, professional men and manufacturers. I know, also, that your square dealing and union principles have made you a host of friends among the mechanics and laboring men and women of East Liverpool. Stand by the right, and for the best interests of this city and, under the blessing of God, we will aid you in defeating and circumventing your so-called powerful enemies.

ALMOST FATAL.

Thomas Harsha, a mouldmaker and a prominent young clubman of the city, was very near death's door Friday of last week, owing to the carelessness of a drug clerk, who made a mistake and put up the wrong medicine. Harsha has been ill for some time with a mild attack of malarial fever, at the home of his parents on Fourth street. It was thought necessary to call in a physician, who prescribed for his patient. Sending for the medicine, Harsha took it according to directions, and soon after became deathly ill. Becoming greatly alarmed at the sudden change for the worse, the parents hastily summoned the attending physician, who, upon arriving, divined at a glance what was wrong. An examination of the drug showed that it was of a poisonous nature, and a mistake had been made in putting up the medicine. One more dose would have resulted in death. An antidote was administered at once and the patient soon placed beyond danger. Mr. Harsha is now recovering nicely and expects to be out soon.

STOLE A WATCH.

Whereabout of the Thief Unknown—The Authorities Notified.

Several days since, just as the steamer, Ford City, was about to take a trip to Pittsburg, a young man, a potter of the city, boarded the boat, and asked to be given a position as cook on the craft. He was told that there were no vacancies. The young man then requested to be permitted to journey as far as Rochester, agreeing to work about the boat in payment for the passage. This was granted, and arriving at the latter place the young man stepped ashore, and the Ford City steamed on up the river. Soon after one of the owners of the boat, having occasion to find out what time it was went to the cabin to get his watch, that had been left in a pocket of a pair of trousers hanging there. The watch, which was a gold one and valued at $100, was missing, and suspicion at once pointed towards the young man, who had just left the boat, as he had done some work in the cabin. As soon as possible the authorities were notified, but as yet no clue to the whereabouts of the supposed thief have been obtained.

A BIG BOY.

John Rose Dispenses Cigars With a Lavish Hand.

If the state of extravagance continues at the store of Rose & Dix as is existing today the firm will surely be bankrupt. Mr. Dix walked into his store this morning and found the place crowded with visitors, while numerous boxes of cigars lined the show cases. His partner, Mr. John Rose, was presiding behind the counter, and amid numerous gesticulations was gurgling: "Have a cigar—boy—take another—18 pounds—fill your pockets a boy! boy!! boy!!!" Investigation revealed that a bouncing boy had arrived at his home on Jefferson street, which was the cause of his lavishness. The stock of cigars in the store will have to be replenished.

Build Warehouse at Once.

The Union Planing mill received the contract for the building of the warehouse of the Metsch mill and will commence work on the new structure at once. The plans for the building proper are not finished and not until they are completed will the contract be let. Work on the stonework and foundation has been commenced.

FELL INTO THE RIVER

William Kirkham Drowned in the Ohio.

HIS BODY FOUND YESTERDAY

He Had Been Over the River With His Little Boy For the Purpose of Setting a Trot Line, and While Returning, Fell Out of the Skiff.

The gentleman has for some time past been going over the river for the purpose of setting trot lines, and on Saturday night went out for the same purpose, accompanied by his son, an eleven-year-old boy.

According to the story told by the boy, they were coming across the river when his father arose and was going to light his pipe, when he pitched headlong into the river over the bow of the skiff. The lad never saw anything of him after he went down, and commenced to cry for help, the boat in the meantime starting to float down stream. As the boy could not row, he started to paddle, still crying.

His cries were heard by a man who lives in a house boat by Thompson's pottery. The man at once launched his skiff and started for the place from which the cries came. Arriving at the spot he towed the boy to shore, where he heard the story, and the two started up town to secure the officers.

The officers arrived in a few minutes and went in search of some grappling irons for the purpose of dragging the river. Searching parties were out all night, and about 12:30 yesterday afternoon the body was found opposite Thompson's pottery, within a few feet of where the accident occurred.

When the body was found the left arm was raised above the head and one side of the body was contracted, as if he had been seized with paralysis. As Mr. Kirkham had been complaining of cramps for over a week past, it is supposed he was seized with them when he fell into the river, as the lad said his father had remarked "that he wished he was home, as he was sick," several times on the journey across the river.

An inquest was held by Squire Manley at his office yesterday afternoon and a verdict of accidental drowning found.

Deceased was aged 55 years and leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss. He has been employed as a slip maker at the Dresden pottery for 10 years past, and was a sober, industrious employe of the factory, being considered one of their very best workmen.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence in California hollow, Reverend Whitehead officiating. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverview cemetery.

GOT THE TRUNK.

The Officer Induced the Landlord to Give it Up.

The little old blind lady from Georgia, clairvoyant, foreteller of the future, etc., who left this city several weeks ago for Merril's station, near Beaver, returned here this morning to demand her trunk, which she claimed Proprietor Allen, at whose place she boarded while here, refused to surrender to her. She was accompanied by another woman, who, seeing Officer Earl on the platform of the depot, beckoned him to their side, and he was told the story. The officer went to Allen and finally induced him to give up the trunk, which, for a time, he was unwilling to do, saying that he should be paid storage for it. Recovering the object desired, the blind lady and her companion returned by the next train.

STOLE SPECTACLES.

Someone stole a valise containing spectacles from one of the fakirs' stands in the Diamond while the owner was away getting lunch Saturday night. A small boy was left to guard the treasured possessions, but a thief, with calm and audacious deliberation, coolly waved the youngster to one side and slipped out with the booty. Upon the fakir's return, and being told of the theft, he just raved for a time, but finally quieted down and reaped consolation in the dollars taken in from the susceptible ones, so easily induced to "bite."

The Homing Race.

The pigeon fly from Ada to this city yesterday was won by a bird owned by Herbert Smith. The distance was covered in 6 hours and 30 minutes.

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

AUNT HANNAH.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association has decided not to repeat the entertainment, as had been contemplated, the East End citizens having such a move in view, for the benefit of the Hayes children.

HIS HEART RIGHT.

A little boy called at the First National bank the other day and handed Mr. Boyce the sum of 36 cents, desiring that the amount should be placed in the fund which is being contributed for the Hayes children. The noble little lad had evidently raised every penny that he possibly could. "And a little child shall lead them." Where are those whom the Lord has blessed with the world's riches?

OUR NEW DRESS.

Ever aiming to keep abreast of the times, we come to our readers today in a new dress. Thanking our patrons for their generous support in the past, we shall endeavor to give the public a bright, clean and fearless home paper, always advocating the right, as God gives us to see the right, leaving the consequences with Him. It is the earnest desire of the management to ever look to the best interests of East Liverpool. This being our watchword, we solicit the aid and assistance of every good citizen. Turn on the light.

LIBERTY OF SPEECH.

This is a free country, granting liberty of speech and liberty of press, as long as both come within the bounds of legality. But liberty of speech does no mean the class of language and abuse of your fellows indulged in by Ward, the so-called "holiness(?)" apostle, in the Diamond last night. The fellow should be pronounced a common nuisance, and Mayor Gilbert should compel him to cease his blackguardism and issue an order to have him "move on," or arrest him and place him in the cooler; and then, if he fails to pay his fine,send him to the workhouse and let him earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. The way he makes use of the name of the Master is nothing less than sacrilege. Call the fellow down.

NINE O'CLOCK.

The liquor traffic is a legitimate business. The sale of intoxicants is legitimate. So says the law, and the law is supposed to be the voice of the people. Inferentially, the law says the liquor business is a dangerous business, and that it must be hedged about with wisely precautionary features. The voters of East Liverpool have appreciated this latter fact,and, for many years past, the saloons of this city were supposed to close at 9 o'clock at night, and remain closed until a legal hour for opening upon the following morning, having no legal right to sell in the intervening hours, and transgressing the law if sales took place during said intervening hours. Some few years since, through the influence of unwise and wicked men, and decidedly against the best interests of East Liverpool, the 9 o'clock ordinance was made a dead letter, and the saloonists were permitted to ply their dangerous traffic until 11 o'clock at night. The result has been a curse to this city, as every honest and intelligent observer will admit. Tomorrow night, in council chamber, an attempt will be made to save the city by going back to the hour of 9 o'clock, and allowing the sale of intoxicants until that hour in the future, until such time as still wiser counsel shall prevail, and our land be redeemed from the curse and iniquity of the license system. What will the present members of council do? One of them has already committed himself, in the presence of witnesses, to the liquor league. He is not a true man. His mind has been made up to do evil. He has neither the manhood nor the intelligence to act wisely and well, and to await the arguments in open council, pro or con, but acted in accordance with the dictates of a prejudiced and evil nature. Such a man has no business in council, and he should be impeached and cast out. In any legislation, of any nature, where important interests of this city might be at stake, he could not be trusted; he is a broken reed, and we want no such men in control in this hustling center of industry. The argument has been used, by the liquor league, that the hour of 11 o'clock for closing has proved a blessing to East Liverpool, and that less liquor drinking and less drunkenness has occurred, under its beneficent(?) rule than under the 9 o'clock ordinance. How these liquor dealers love us? How they long to curtail drunkenness? How they long to lessen the amount of liquor sold in this city? How they deserve the thanks of all good citizens? What class of intelligence do these triflers imagine they are dealing with? Every man and woman in the city, possessing common sense, knows that the saloonist is in his unholy business simply for the money there is in it. Every intelligent saloonkeeper will admit that it is the meanest and most shameful business in the land; but—there is money in it. This is his only plea; and for money he is willing to barter his soul. This is plain talk; but it is the truth, and God commands that the truth shall be told. No man on God's earth dare hold a glass of liquor to his neighbor's lips and pray the blessing of God on the infamous act. And now we come to the point at issue in the city. On tomorrow night, May 26, the members of East Liverpool city council will go upon record as to the hour for closing our saloons. There is to be no star chamber work about this ballot. The people will know how each member votes on this vital question, and full publicity will be given to the vote. There are men in that body who have openly boasted that they will vote in favor of 11 o'clock. That is their privilege. But we have faith in the people of East Liverpool to believe that such men, when they retire from the office they have thus disgraced, will never again hold office or trust at the hands or ballots of the intelligent voters of East Liverpool. There have been deals made in the election of certain councilmen in this city, as per the evidence of men who are not afraid to make the MODUS OPERANDI of their election known, in case of necessity, and there may soon be need to turn on the light.

CLOUDBURST DOES DAMAGE.

Property Destroyed In West Virginina and a Man Drowned.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 25.—The heavy rainfall here was followed by a terrific cloudburst, or waterspout, at Leachtown, Chesterville and Elizabeth. At Chesterville the creek rose out of its banks and overflowed the valley, sweeping away fences, outbuildings, barns, bridges and crops.

At Leachtown and vicinity fences and crops were destroyed and the country overflowed. Hughes river and the Little Kanawha started out with a rush, carrying everything before them. The amount of losses is not known, but is immense. At Elizabeth, Reedy and Tygart valleys roadways, fences, crops, and in some instances, buildings were washed away. Heavy mill machinery was disturbed and great destruction was done.

One man is reported drowned near Elizabeth. The Little Kanawha is rising fast here. The people were compelled to desert their homes and run to places of safety.

THE BERMUDA NEARLY CAUGHT.

Two Spanish Gunboats Got the Vessel In Close Quarters.

NEW YORK, May 25.—News has reached this city from Puerto Cortes, Honduras, that the steamship Bermuda, with a large party of filibusters and cargo of ammunition and provisions, had a narrow excape from being captured by the Spanish warships on her last cruise to Cuba, while landing the expedition.

The first boat capsized, being overloaded, and five men were drowned, among them N. de Cardenas, a brother of Colonel Nicolas de Cardenas, one of the insurgent leaders.

The cargo was all landed, when one of the boats got adrift. Some of the party began shouting. Suddenly the flash of an electric light was seen directly over the ship's masthead. The shouts of the men in the boat had been heard by a Spanish warship, which was patrolling the coast. There was a flash and a roar and a solid shot passed about 30 feet astern of the steamship.

Captain Reilly headed his ship eastward, and was pulling away from the Spaniards very quickly. A few moments after a second shot was fired and went wide. Then it was discovered that two Spanish gunboats were in pursuit. The race between the warship and the filibusterer was an exciting one, but the Bermuda had no trouble in showing the Spaniards her heels. When day dawned nothing could be seen of the gunboats.

THOBURN NOT PLEASED

MAY STIR DELEGATES TO ACT.

If Financial Support Is Not Forthcoming, the Bishop Says He Will Try to Raise the Money Himself—Bishop Taylor Retired—Other Business.

CLEVELAND, May 25.—Bishop Thoburn took occasion in a sermon which he delivered at the armory Sunday to lecture the delegates to the Methodist conference for their indifference regarding missions. Bishop Thoburn has long been a laborer in the mission field of India and he took the conference to task severely for not giving better financial support to the work. "Some day," he said, "we shall all stand before the great white throne, and we shall be asked why, when we were in Cleveland four weeks, we did not do something for the mission cause. The only answer we can make will be that we were so busy with previous questions, questions of privileges, points of order and laying things on the table that we could not attend to missions."

Bishop Thoburn said he had come to this country expecting something to be done, and if the Methodist church would only act, the other great Protestant denominations would follow it. It might be possible, with proper effort, to save 1,000,000 souls a year in India, but even at that rate it would take 200 years to Christianize the country.

The bishop's sermon has given rise to talk to the effect that a motion will be made to reconsider the vote by which it was decided to re-elect no more bishops, in order that an assistant for Bishop Thoburn may be chosen. The bishop said that he did not care so much for an assistant. Since the hard times began the money support of the missions has fallen off to such an extent that it will be necessary to send home from India one in six of the missionaries now there. Bishop Thoburn has been quoted as saying that he would resign if the conference did not afford him help. He denies that. He says, however, that if financial support is not provided by the conference he will remain in this country and endeavor to raise the money needed by personal efforts.

At Saturday's session Bishop Taylor was retired. The conference decided there was no grounds for the complaint of Dr. Bowdish against Bishops Fitzgerald and Fowler and Warren. No more missionary bishops will be elected, except a successor to Taylor.

Rev. Dr. F. B. Scott was elected as editor of The Southwestern Advocate. Dr. Homer Eaton was made treasurer, and Dr. Louis Curts assistant treasurer of the Missionary society. Dr. E. L. Naglee was elected editor of The Hans and Herd, and Dr. J. F. Berry of Detroit was elected editor of The Epworth Herald.

May 28, at 1 p. m., was fixed as the time for final adjournment.

M. P. CONFERENCE ENDED.

A Committee on Revision Appointed Before Final Adjournment.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Protestant church finished its work at Kansas City, Kan., Saturday after seven days' session, and adjourned sine die.

The committee on revision, which was provided for earlier in the conference, was appointed, with President J. W. Hering of Maryland, chairman. The other members selected were: Revs. J. T. Murphy, Baltimore; J. T. Howell, Troy, Ala.; J. A. Thropp, Toronto, O.; J. M. Robertson, Pittsburg; U. S. Fleming, Pittsburg, and L. Boering, Greenfield, Ind.

This committee, during the interim before the next general conference, will receive all complaints and propositions on revision of the church creed.

A proposition to amalgamate with the Primitive Methodist conference, a small eastern body, was received from Providence, and read. After some discussion, three members of the New York conference, Rev. J. H. Robinson, Fred Vainey and J. H. Algore, were appointed a committee to confer with the Primitive conference.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Ministerial Delegates Preached In Saratoga Pulpits Sunday.

SARATOGA, May 25.—Ministerial delegates to the Presbyterian general assembly occupied pulpits on this city and adjoining towns. Sunday

Moderator Withrow in his sermon made some very frank and blunt statements, while at the same time pleading for moderation and conciliation. He said that Christianity does not receive the confidence of the world while it uses the ax. Fighting churches are a laughing stock. Conciliation and mutual consideration are indispensable to healthy growth, and progress comes with peace.

At Saturday's session Secretary Lee Bouk, of the board of ministerial relief, announced his intention to resign.

The report on temporalities of the church was practically voted of no value and the committee enlarged.

The report on ministerial relief showed 795 beneficiaries under the board, an increase of 95, and a decrease through death of about 50. The receipts for the year showed a slight decrease, reaching $171,557. The expenses of the year were $166,557. The average amount granted to those under the care of the board was $210, with a minimum of $300. One of the principles of this board is that it avoids contracting any debts. It was recommended that the sum of $200,000 be contributed to the uses of the relief board during the coming year.

U. P. Delegates at Xenia.

XENIA, O., May 25.—Quite a number of delegates to the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, which meets here May 27, have arrived. Rev. J. P. FIGHT ON BUTLER'S BILL.

Appropriation Bills Will Be Used to Prevent a Vote.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The outlook as to the line of proceedings in the senate during the present week is not very clear. It is the general understanding that the debate on Senator Butler's bond resolution will continue today and possibly longer, but if it holds the floor beyond today there will be an effort to displace it with the general deficiency appropriation bill. This is the only one of the appropriation bills which has not received the attention of the senate. As it has now been reported the members of the appropriations committee are naturally anxious to take it up at the earliest practicable date.

On the other hand, Senator Butler, who has charge of the bond bill, feels that if a vote is not had on his bill before this appropriation bill is passed, it may be impossible to hold a quorum, and will therefore insist upon going forward to a finish before the deficiency bill is considered. He thinks that it will be possible to conclude the debate upon the bond bill today or at the latest tomorrow.

The opponents of the bond bill will try to prevent a vote being reached at all, and some of them will obstruct its progress to the fullest extent possible, with appropriation bills and by other legitimate means at their command. Of the 15 general appropriation bills, only six have become laws, leaving eight still to be sent to the president, and none of these, except the legislative and the river and harbor bill are entirely out of conference. There will therefore be numerous conference reports to be presented, and as these are always privileged matters, they can be used to displace the bond bill.

A DETERMINED POPULIST.

Getting Back at House Members Because Reed Has Ignored Him.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The house is rapidly clearing the decks for final adjournment. Conference reports are likely to consume a large portion of the time of the house this week, as they did last. In the last days of a session little indulgence is given members, and by the operation of the rules in matters of high privilege like conference reports questions can be brought to a vote at the will of the leaders.

The general clamor for unanimous consent legislation, which becomes louder as the session draws to a close, promises to be entirely checked at this session by the action of Mr. Kemp (Pop., Neb.), if he persist in his threat. He demanded the "regular order" at every opportunity last week and threatens to continue to do so to the end of his congressional career, unless the speaker recognizes him to move the passage of a bill to grant an abandoned military reservation to his state.

Late Government Officials Arrested.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Francis J Kieckhofer, late chief of the bureau of accounts and disbursing officer of the state department, has been arrested on three warrants charging him with embezzlement, as follows: July 2, 1895, $18,229; Aug. 10, 1895, $2,399, and Oct 22, same year, $16,837.

MARTIN LIKELY TO HANG.

The Circuit Court at Tiffin Affirmed the Death Decision.

TIFFIN, O., May 25.—The circuit court has rendered a decision in the case of Levi J. Martin, condemned murderer of Marshal Shultz. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed, and a new trial refused.

The attorneys for Martin will appeal to the supreme court, and a stay of execution was asked. Martin is in the annex at Columbus, and the day of execution is June 5.

The Governor a Guest.

XENIA, O., May 25.—Governor Bushnell attended the annual dinner given by the young ladies of the cooking school department of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home. Among the guests were: General Axline, General Andrews, School Commissioner Carson, Captain Folkerth and wife; Prof. Thomas, Ohio State university; Senator Shryock, Zanesville; Judge Hersheeman and wife, Urbana, and W. W. Lanning, Columbus.

Secured Her Husband's Freedom.

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 25.—Douglas Leslie of Rarden, who was recently fined $100 and costs for shooting at a neighbor, is now a free man, thanks to the energy of his wife. Mrs. Leslie, as soon as the sentence was passed, started securing subscriptions to raise a fund to pay the fine. In doing this she was compelled to travel over almost the entire county afoot to secure the money.

Not Killed In the Fall.

COLUMBUS, May 25.—Thomas Page of Cleveland, a contractor, fell four stories down the elevator shaft of the Great Southern hotel, now in process of erection here, but strange to say, was not killed. None of his limbs are broken, but it is thought that he is injured internally. He stepped into what he thought was the elevator, but it had risen to the next floor.

Charged With Fraud.

MARION, O., May 25.—The grand jury, at this session, indicted George M. Rice and George Crossen, jointly on six counts. They were formerly employed by the Huber company to receive and measure lumber. It is charged that they reported more lumber to the company than was purchased, and divided the difference. Both are under $3,000 bonds.

Two Prisoners at Marion Escape.

MARION, O., May 25.—Jesse Shisler, indicted on a charge of forgery and of obtaining money on false pretense, and William Logston, sentenced to the penitentiary one year for stealing cattle, have escaped from the county jail through a window in the corridor by chiseling off rivets holding the iron bars. It is believed they had outside help.

MAY ADJOURN NEXT WEEK.

Senator Allison Thinks the Senate Is Nearly Ready.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The talk is general that the date of final adjournment will depend almost entirely upon the length of time the president may hold the river and harbor bill. Without having any authority for the supposition, senators generally expect a veto of that measure, and count upon having to remain long enough to attempt to pass it despite the executive disapproval.

Senator Allison expressed the opinion that in case of early action by the president, whether favorably or adversely that the senate would be prepared to adjourn by the first of next week. In that event everything would be rushed aside this week for the appropriation bills.

NOT AFTER CLEVELAND'S JOB.

Debs Refuses to Accept a Nomination For President.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 25.—Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway union, said in an interview here:

"I will state for the public print that I will not serve in a public office. I have a fixed conception of a public office and do not care to hold one. Politics and labor are two different institutions, and I will not give up labor for politics. The two don't go well together, and I believe I am of more use in labor. No I will not go into politics and will not accept the nomination for president."

President Burns Scored a Victory.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—By an overwhelming vote the socalled Marion peace resolution has been adopted by the Window Glassworkers' association, and the end of the faction fight is in sight. The Marion resolution, which was presented by the Marion (Ind.) workers, gives the president and executive council supreme power and takes the control of the organization out of the hands of the seven preceptories of Pittsburg. It is regarded as a victory for President Burns and the preceptories outside of this city.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, MAY 25.

UNION LABEL

For President,
WILLIAM McKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

AUNT HANNAH.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian association has decided not to repeat the entertainment, as had been contemplated, the East End citizens having such a move in view, for the benefit of the Hayes children.

HIS HEART RIGHT.

A little boy called at the First National bank the other day and handed Mr. Boyce the sum of 36 cents, desiring that the amount should be placed in the fund which is being contributed for the Hayes children. The noble little lad had evidently raised every penny that he possibly could. "And a little child shall lead them." Where are those whom the Lord has blessed with the world's riches?

OUR NEW DRESS.

Ever aiming to keep abreast of the times, we come to our readers today in a new dress. Thanking our patrons for their generous support in the past, we shall endeavor to give the public a bright, clean and fearless home paper, always advocating the right, as God gives us to see the right, leaving the consequences with Him. It is the earnest desire of the management to ever look to the best interests of East Liverpool. This being our watchword, we solicit the aid and assistance of every good citizen. Turn on the light.

LIBERTY OF SPEECH.

This is a free country, granting liberty of speech and liberty of press, as long as both come within the bounds of legality. But liberty of speech does no mean the class of language and abuse of your fellows indulged in by Ward, the so-called "holiness(?)" apostle, in the Diamond last night. The fellow should be pronounced a common nuisance, and Mayor Gilbert should compel him to cease his blackguardism and issue an order to have him "move on," or arrest him and place him in the cooler; and then, if he fails to pay his fine,send him to the workhouse and let him earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. The way he makes use of the name of the Master is nothing less than sacrilege. Call the fellow down.

NINE O'CLOCK.

The liquor traffic is a legitimate business. The sale of intoxicants is legitimate. So says the law, and the law is supposed to be the voice of the people. Inferentially, the law says the liquor business is a dangerous business, and that it must be hedged about with wisely precautionary features. The voters of East Liverpool have appreciated this latter fact,and, for many years past, the saloons of this city were supposed to close at 9 o'clock at night, and remain closed until a legal hour for opening upon the following morning, having no legal right to sell in the intervening hours, and transgressing the law if sales took place during said intervening hours. Some few years since, through the influence of unwise and wicked men, and decidedly against the best interests of East Liverpool, the 9 o'clock ordinance was made a dead letter, and the saloonists were permitted to ply their dangerous traffic until 11 o'clock at night. The result has been a curse to this city, as every honest and intelligent observer will admit. Tomorrow night, in council chamber, an attempt will be made to save the city by going back to the hour of 9 o'clock, and allowing the sale of intoxicants until that hour in the future, until such time as still wiser counsel shall prevail, and our land be redeemed from the curse and iniquity of the license system. What will the present members of council do? One of them has already committed himself, in the presence of witnesses, to the liquor league. He is not a true man. His mind has been made up to do evil. He has neither the manhood nor the intelligence to act wisely and well, and to await the arguments in open council, pro or con, but acted in accordance with the dictates of a prejudiced and evil nature. Such a man has no business in council, and he should be impeached and cast out. In any legislation, of any nature, where important interests of this city might be at stake, he could not be trusted; he is a broken reed, and we want no such men in control in this hustling center of industry. The argument has been used, by the liquor league, that the hour of 11 o'clock for closing has proved a blessing to East Liverpool, and that less liquor drinking and less drunkenness has occurred, under its beneficent(?) rule than under the 9 o'clock ordinance. How these liquor dealers love us? How they long to curtail drunkenness? How they long to lessen the amount of liquor sold in this city? How they deserve the thanks of all good citizens? What class of intelligence do these triflers imagine they are dealing with? Every man and woman in the city, possessing common sense, knows that the saloonist is in his unholy business simply for the money there is in it. Every intelligent saloonkeeper will admit that it is the meanest and most shameful business in the land; but—there is money in it. This is his only plea; and for money he is willing to barter his soul. This is plain talk; but it is the truth, and God commands that the truth shall be told. No man on God's earth dare hold a glass of liquor to his neighbor's lips and pray the blessing of God on the infamous act. And now we come to the point at issue in the city. On tomorrow night, May 26, the members of East Liverpool city council will go upon record as to the hour for closing our saloons. There is to be no star chamber work about this ballot. The people will know how each member votes on this vital question, and full publicity will be given to the vote. There are men in that body who have openly boasted that they will vote in favor of 11 o'clock. That is their privilege. But we have faith in the people of East Liverpool to believe that such men, when they retire from the office they have thus disgraced, will never again hold office or trust at the hands or ballots of the intelligent voters of East Liverpool. There have been deals made in the election of certain councilmen in this city, as per the evidence of men who are not afraid to make the MODUS OPERANDI of their election known, in case of necessity, and there may soon be need to turn on the light.

CLOUDBURST DOES DAMAGE.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 25.—The heavy rainfall here was followed by a terrific cloudburst, or waterspout, at Leachtown, Chesterville and Elizabeth. At Chesterville the creek rose out of its banks and overflowed the valley, sweeping away fences, outbuildings, barns, bridges and crops.

At Leachtown and vicinity fences and crops were destroyed and the country overflowed. Hughes river and the Little Kanawha started out with a rush, carrying everything before them. The amount of losses is not known, but is immense. At Elizabeth, Reedy and Tygart valleys roadways, fences, crops, and in some instances, buildings were washed away. Heavy mill machinery was disturbed and great destruction was done.

One man is reported drowned near Elizabeth. The Little Kanawha is rising fast here. The people were compelled to desert their homes and run to places of safety.

THE BERMUDA NEARLY CAUGHT.

Two Spanish Gunboats Got the Vessel In Close Quarters.

NEW YORK, May 25.—News has reached this city from Puerto Cortes, Honduras, that the steamship Bermuda, with a large party of filibusters and cargo of ammunition and provisions, had a narrow excape from being captured by the Spanish warships on her last cruise to Cuba, while landing the expedition.

The first boat capsized, being overloaded, and five men were drowned, among them N. de Cardenas, a brother of Colonel Nicolas de Cardenas, one of the insurgent leaders.

The cargo was all landed, when one of the boats got adrift. Some of the party began shouting. Suddenly the flash of an electric light was seen directly over the ship's masthead. The shouts of the men in the boat had been heard by a Spanish warship, which was patrolling the coast. There was a flash and a roar and a solid shot passed about 30 feet astern of the steamship.

Captain Reilly headed his ship eastward, and was pulling away from the Spaniards very quickly. A few moments after a second shot was fired and went wide. Then it was discovered that two Spanish gunboats were in pursuit. The race between the warship and the filibusterer was an exciting one, but the Bermuda had no trouble in showing the Spaniards her heels. When day dawned nothing could be seen of the gunboats.

MAY STIR DELEGATES TO ACT.

If Financial Support Is Not Forthcoming, the Bishop Says He Will Try to Raise the Money Himself—Bishop Taylor Retired—Other Business.

CLEVELAND, May 25.—Bishop Thoburn took occasion in a sermon which he delivered at the armory Sunday to lecture the delegates to the Methodist conference for their indifference regarding missions. Bishop Thoburn has long been a laborer in the mission field of India and he took the conference to task severely for not giving better financial support to the work. "Some day," he said, "we shall all stand before the great white throne, and we shall be asked why, when we were in Cleveland four weeks, we did not do something for the mission cause. The only answer we can make will be that we were so busy with previous questions, questions of privileges, points of order and laying things on the table that we could not attend to missions."

Bishop Thoburn said he had come to this country expecting something to be done, and if the Methodist church would only act, the other great Protestant denominations would follow it. It might be possible, with proper effort, to save 1,000,000 souls a year in India, but even at that rate it would take 200 years to Christianize the country.

The bishop's sermon has given rise to talk to the effect that a motion will be made to reconsider the vote by which it was decided to re-elect no more bishops, in order that an assistant for Bishop Thoburn may be chosen. The bishop said that he did not care so much for an assistant. Since the hard times began the money support of the missions has fallen off to such an extent that it will be necessary to send home from India one in six of the missionaries now there. Bishop Thoburn has been quoted as saying that he would resign if the conference did not afford him help. He denies that. He says, however, that if financial support is not provided by the conference he will remain in this country and endeavor to raise the money needed by personal efforts.

At Saturday's session Bishop Taylor was retired. The conference decided there was no grounds for the complaint of Dr. Bowdish against Bishops Fitzgerald and Fowler and Warren. No more missionary bishops will be elected, except a successor to Taylor.

Rev. Dr. F. B. Scott was elected as editor of The Southwestern Advocate. Dr. Homer Eaton was made treasurer, and Dr. Louis Curts assistant treasurer of the Missionary society. Dr. E. L. Naglee was elected editor of The Hans and Herd, and Dr. J. F. Berry of Detroit was elected editor of The Epworth Herald.

May 28, at 1 p. m., was fixed as the time for final adjournment.

M. P. CONFERENCE ENDED.

A Committee on Revision Appointed Before Final Adjournment.

KANSAS CITY, May 25.—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Protestant church finished its work at Kansas City, Kan., Saturday after seven days' session, and adjourned sine die.

The committee on revision, which was provided for earlier in the conference, was appointed, with President J. W. Hering of Maryland, chairman. The other members selected were: Revs. J. T. Murphy, Baltimore; J. T. Howell, Troy, Ala.; J. A. Thropp, Toronto, O.; J. M. Robertson, Pittsburg; U. S. Fleming, Pittsburg, and L. Boering, Greenfield, Ind.

This committee, during the interim before the next general conference, will receive all complaints and propositions on revision of the church creed.

A proposition to amalgamate with the Primitive Methodist conference, a small eastern body, was received from Providence, and read. After some discussion, three members of the New York conference, Rev. J. H. Robinson, Fred Vainey and J. H. Algore, were appointed a committee to confer with the Primitive conference.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Ministerial Delegates Preached In Saratoga Pulpits Sunday.

SARATOGA, May 25.—Ministerial delegates to the Presbyterian general assembly occupied pulpits on this city and adjoining towns. Sunday

Moderator Withrow in his sermon made some very frank and blunt statements, while at the same time pleading for moderation and conciliation. He said that Christianity does not receive the confidence of the world while it uses the ax. Fighting churches are a laughing stock. Conciliation and mutual consideration are indispensable to healthy growth, and progress comes with peace.

At Saturday's session Secretary Lee Bouk, of the board of ministerial relief, announced his intention to resign.

The report on temporalities of the church was practically voted of no value and the committee enlarged.

The report on ministerial relief showed 795 beneficiaries under the board, an increase of 95, and a decrease through death of about 50. The receipts for the year showed a slight decrease, reaching $171,557. The expenses of the year were $166,557. The average amount granted to those under the care of the board was $210, with a minimum of $300. One of the principles of this board is that it avoids contracting any debts. It was recommended that the sum of $200,000 be contributed to the uses of the relief board during the coming year.

U. P. Delegates at Xenia.

XENIA, O., May 25.—Quite a number of delegates to the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church, which meets here May 27, have arrived. Rev. J. P. McMichael will preach the opening sermon next Wednesday night. Among the delegates who occupied pulpits here Sunday were: Rev Kirkpatrick, Seattle, Wash.; Rev. H. C. Marshall, Rock Island, Ills.; Rev. E. B. Stewart, San Francisco; Rev. W. J. Edgar, Philadelphia, and Rev. Riley Little, Albany, Or.

Politics and labor are two different institutions, and I will not give up labor for politics. The two don't go well together, and I believe I am of more use in labor. No I will not go into politics and will not accept the nomination for president."

President Burns Scored a Victory.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—By an overwhelming vote the socalled Marion peace resolution has been adopted by the Window Glassworkers' association, and the end of the faction fight is in sight. The Marion resolution, which was presented by the Marion (Ind.) workers, gives the president and executive council supreme power and takes the control of the organization out of the hands of the seven preceptories of Pittsburg. It is regarded as a victory for President Burns and the preceptories outside of this city.

THE PROHIBS DIVIDED.

DELEGATES INVADING PITTSBURG.

The National Convention Will Be Called to Order Next Wednesday Morning. Levering, Metcalf and Bentley Out For the Presidential Nomination.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—Prohibition delegates are arriving in this city for the national conventien Among those already here are National Chairman Dickey, A A Stevens of Tyrone, Robt. Ireland of Baltimore and ex-Governor St. John of Kansas.

The Prohibition convention will number 1,200 delegates. It will be called to order by National Chairman Dickey next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the new Exposition Music hall. The big things to be done are the nominating of a national ticket for president and vice president and the building of a platform for them to run on.

The fight over the platform will be between the "Narrow Guagers," who want prohibition as the leading feature of the platform, and the "Broad Guagers," who want other issues, mainly Populistic, incorporated in the platform.

Chairman Dickey was not slow to express himself as favoring the dominant conservative wing of the party, and saying that he thought the "Populistic" end of the party would run up against a snag. Mr. Dickey said there was no use in the Prohibitionist party loading itself down with side issues, each one of which would lop off from its ranks good and true men who were single hearted when prohibition was mentioned. He thought there might be some fun when the party convened, but that the better judgment of the members would prevail and the platform would declare for prohibition as the main feature and with some mention of other planks, but not rampant populism or any other ism.

He thought the party would not cut loose from these men who had been its political bone and sinew tor so many years. He rather expects to see Joshua Levering of Baltimore or Mr. Metcalf of Rhode Island nominated for president.

Ex-Governor St. John said that both free silver and free trade would be incorporated in the platform. Said he: "I want to see the party come out on good, broad lines and declare itself for the principles which would make Americans free indeed and not slaves. I am for the freest of free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, and that's all there is to it. We will win, though there may be a fight. I am for the Nebraska candidate for president, Charles E Bentley, and I think he will be the choice of the convention We are not weakening but strengthening our party by having other principles than one in its platform."

The narrow guage people will urge the election of A. A. Stevens of Tyrone, Pa., as temporary chairman of the convention, while the opposition will present the name of their candidate for the presidential nomination, C. E. Bentley, and the first fight will be on this election.

WEYLER'S VICTORIES.

Rebels Purposely Retire, Then It's a Battle Won.

BUTCHERY OF THE HELPLESS

Also Used as a Suitable Excuse For Heralding Another Rebel Defeat—The Insurgents In Good Shape—A Cuban Describes the State of the War.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A gentleman, for 45 years a resident of Cuba, in an interview with your representative, gave a timely statement of the condition of the Cuban rebellion.

He said: "Eastern Cuba has been and remains the main center of the rebellion. The people in Central and Eastern Cuba, who are openly on the side of the rebels, sympathize with them, and keep them fully advised of every movement of the royal troops."

In reply to a question regarding the rebels strength, the gentleman said that fully 50,000 men are in the various rebel commands, of whom, say three-fourths, have arms.

When asked as to the rebel method of attack, the speaker said that it was of the usual Cuban type. "They post their Tirradores, or sharpshooters, in parties of 50. First they engage the advance guard of the royalists from ambush, firing upon them, and producing panic and death. If crowded too much, that party will fall back, while a new one of 50 will make a flank attack, and so they simply harass the Spaniards and expose themselves as little as possible. The Cubans are as crafty in ambushing as Indians. In many of the skirmishes in which the Tirradores, fell back when outnumbered, such engagements are made to do duty as Spanish victories.

"The real fighting today is in the western part of Central Cuba and to that part the rebels are hurrying forward every available man. Despite all statements to the contrary, the rebels cross the trocha whenever they please. The continued presence of Antonio Maceo in the province of Pinar del Rio is of his own volition. His following today is well armed and have ammunition.

"The Cubans have orders to release all prisoners captured after securing their arms and supplies. On the other hand, however, Spanish commanders are responsible for the shooting of hundreds of defenseless persons and reporting the affair as a Spanish victory.

"The Cubans do not now hold any town, village or port, but when advised of expeditions the rebels concentrate near the coast and cover the landing of men and arms, having reduced this to a science. The steamers lay to at night, outside the marine league. The boats, painted a light drab, are swung over the side, when they are laden with men and arms, If a man-of-war appears, she sees the steamer, while the boats, without lights, make for the shore. All the expeditions dispatched to Cuba have landed except that of the Competitor. Nineteen expeditions have made successful trips. Thousands of rifles and machetes and tens of thousands of cartridges have reached the rebels, including some cannon, dynamite and hospital stores."

"The rebels have foraged for all living supplies. They have made the owners of estates pay a tax on all cattle slaughtered for general or private consumption. Herds are driven into the mountain fastnesses for future supplies. They have more men than can be armed. The men without arms, saving the machete, have cultivated large tracts of rich mountain lands, growing corn, pumpkins, sweet potatoes and plantains. Thus food is plentiful.

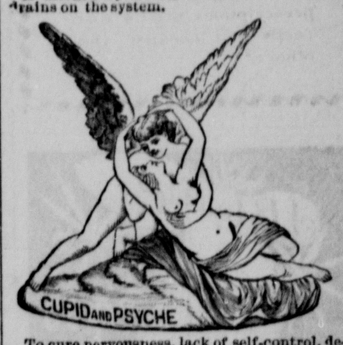
The book fully describes a method by which to attain full vigor and manly power.

A method by which to end all unnatural drains on the system.



To cure nervousness, lack of self-control, despondency, &c.

To exchange a jaded and worn nature for one of brightness, buoyancy and power.

THE PROHIBS DIVIDED.

DELEGATES INVADING PITTSBURG.

The National Convention Will Be Called to Order Next Wednesday Morning. Levering, Metcalf and Bentley Out For the Presidential Nomination.

PITTSBURG, May 25.—Prohibition delegates are arriving in this city for the national convention Among those already here are National Chairman Dickey, A A Stevens of Tyrone, Robt. Ireland of Baltimore and ex-Governor St. John of Kansas.

The Prohibition convention will number 1,200 delegates. It will be called to order by National Chairman Dickey next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in the new Exposition Music hall. The big things to be done are the nominating of a national ticket for president and vice president and the building of a platform for them to run on.

The fight over the platform will be between the "Narrow Guagers," who want prohibition as the leading feature of the platform, and the "Broad Guagers," who want other issues, mainly Populistic, incorporated in the platform.

Chairman Dickey was not slow to express himself as favoring the dominant conservative wing of the party, and saying that he thought the "Populistic" end of the party would run up against a snag. Mr. Dickey said there was no use in the Prohibitionist party loading itself dewn with side issues, each one of which would lop off from its ranks good and true men who were single hearted when prohibition was mentioned. He thought there might be some fun when the party convened, but that the better judgment of the members would prevail and the platform would declare for prohibition as the main feature and with some mention of other planks, but not rampant populism or any other ism.

He thought the party would not cut loose from these men who had been its political bone and sinew for so many years. He rather expects to see Joshua Levering of Baltimore or Mr. Metcalf of Rhode Island nominated for president.

Ex-Governor St. John said that both free silver and free trade would be incorporated in the platform. Said he: "I want to see the party come out on good, broad lines and declare itself for the principles which would make Americans free indeed and not slaves. I am for the freest of free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, and that's all there is to it. We will win, though there may be a fight. I am for the Nebraska candidate for president, Charles E Bentley, and I think he will be the choice of the convention We are not weakening but strengthening our party by having other principles than one in its platform."

The narrow guage people will urge the election of A. A. Stevens of Tyrone, Pa., as temporary chairman of the convention, while the opposition will present the name of their candidate for the presidential nomination, C. E. Bentley, and the first fight will be on this election.

WEYLER'S VICTORIES.

Rebels Purposely Retire, Then It's a Battle Won.

BUTCHERY OF THE HELPLESS

Also Used as a Suitable Excuse For Heralding Another Rebel Defeat—The Insurgents In Good Shape—A Cuban Describes the State of the War.

NEW YORK, May 25.—A gentleman, for 45 years a resident of Cuba, in an interview with your representative, gave a timely statement of the condition of the Cuban rebellion.

He said: "Eastern Cuba has been and remains the main center of the rebellion. The people in Central and Eastern Cuba, who are openly on the side of the rebels, sympathize with them, and keep them fully advised of every movement of the royal troops."

In reply to a question regarding the rebels strength, the gentleman said that fully 50,000 men are in the various rebel commands, of whom, say three-fourths, have arms.

When asked as to the rebel method of attack, the speaker said that it was of the usual Cuban type. "They post their Tirradores, or sharpshooters, in parties of 50. First they engage the advance guard of the royalists from ambush, firing upon them, and producing panic and death. If crowded too much, that party will fall back, while a new one of 50 will make a flank attack, and so they simply harass the Spaniards and expose themselves as little as possible. The Cubans are as crafty in ambushing as Indians. In many of the skirmishes in which the Tirradores, fell back when outnumbered, such engagements are made to do duty as Spanish victories.

"The real fighting today is in the western part of Central Cuba and to that part the rebels are hurrying forward every available man. Despite all statements to the contrary, the rebels cross the trocha whenever they please. The continued presence of Antonio Maceo in the province of Pinar del Rio is of his own volition. His following today is well armed and have ammunition.

"The Cubans have orders to release all prisoners captured after securing their arms and supplies. On the other hand, however, Spanish commanders are responsible for the shooting of hundreds of defenseless persons and reporting the affair as a Spanish victory.

"The Cubans do not now hold any town, village or port, but when advised of expeditions the rebels concentrate near the coast and cover the landing of men and arms, having reduced this to a science. The steamers lay to at night, outside the marine league. The boats, painted a light drab, are swung over the side, when they are laden with men and arms, If a man-of-war appears, she sees the steamer, while the boats, without lights, make for the shore. All the expeditions dispatched to Cuba have landed except that of the Competitor. Nineteen expeditions have made successful trips. Thousands of rifles and machetes and tens of thousands of cartridges have reached the rebels, including some cannon, dynamite and hospital stores."

"The rebels have foraged for all living supplies. They have made the owners of estates pay a tax on all cattle slaughtered for general or private consumption. Herds are driven into the mountain fastnesses for future supplies. They have more men than can be armed. The men without arms, saving the machete, have cultivated large tracts of rich mountain lands, growing corn, pumpkins, sweet potatoes and plantains. Thus food is plentiful.

A BARBER AND DOCTOR

STRUCK THE DOCTOR WITH A MUG

A Lively Scene In the Barber Shop of W. W. Williams—The Doctor's Ear Cut. The Affair May End In Court—Both Sides of the Dispute.

There was war in a Market street barber shop this morning. The principals in the affair were W. W. Williams, the proprietor of the shop and Doctor Gardner. The latter, though well up in years, it is reputed, can still do a "turn."

The doctor entered the barber shop, according to the story of Williams, and demanded that certain rent receipts in the possession of the latter person be turned over to him. This Williams refused to do, whereupon, he asserts, Doctor Gardner assuming a threatening attitude, became very abusive and from his manner indicated that he was going to assault the proprietor.

Williams then ordered the doctor to leave the premises, and the medical man, refusing to do so, commenced to advance toward him. Williams then picked up a glass mug to protect himself, and with all the force at his command, threw it at the doctor, striking him on the ear. The doctor fell and before he could rise, the indignant barber administered sundry kicks on the person of the prostrate physician, with the result that the latter landed out on the street. During the melee a large mirror was smashed. The wound in Doctor Gardner's ear bled profusely for some time, but was bandaged up and the flow of blood staunched.

The reporter called at the doctor's residence and obtained his version of the affair. In substance it is as follows: "I called on Williams this morning to collect back rent that he owes me. He refused to pay me, and then I asked him to show me the receipts for the months that had been paid, and he would not agree to this. He ordered me out of the shop, and I refused to go and told him I had business there. Then he grabbed up a glass and threw it at me, striking me on the ear and cutting a gash that had to be sewed up."

The outcome of the fracas will likely be settled in court.

WHERE IS HE?

A Son Wishes to Know the Whereabouts of His Father.

A letter was received by a gentleman in the city this morning, asking him to ascertain, if possible, the whereabouts of the inquirer's father, Obadiah Handcock. The missing one was a printer by trade, and was a county or township commissioner at Kittanning during the years 1867-8, and was well known to residents in that section. Any information that will lead to his whereabouts, addressed to W. C. Coatham, New Westminster, British Columbia, will be thankfully received.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is on old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he sad. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it ito be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

William Duffy, of Third street, night watchman at the bridge, was taken ill while on duty Saturday night, and leaving his dinner bucket and coat on the opposite shore he rowed across the river and returned home without telling any one that he was going. At noon a messenger dispatched to Duffy's home showed that the fears were groundless.

spectators. Stewart was certainly entitled to score under the rules, but a ground rule had been made before the game of only one base on a blocked ball, and the question to be decided was whether Stewart was entitled from second to third base, or from third base home. Umpire McShane held that he was only entitled from second to third, and the captain of the Scio team thought he was entitled from third to home. The man scored, however, so Scio lost nothing by the decision.

"Tooty" Coleman gave East Liverpool the worst of it on three decisions, but the spectators were of the opinion that Umpire McShane evened it all up on balls and strikes in the last two innings.

The rooters were out in full force, and made things merry in the tenth inning.

The people were kept out of the lane by the police, but moved out and sat on the railing along the roadway. It is a funny thing how many people will go to see a ball game and try to get in without paying anything.

McShane pitched an elegant game and surprised a large portion of the audience, who didn't know that he was a good pitcher. The support he received was of the finest quality.

The team was strengthened by the addition of J. Reark.

The boys played together like clock work, and it is safe to predict that before the season is over there won't be an amateur team in this section that will be able to defeat them.

Finch caught a good game despite the errors to his credit and Heckathorne played an A1 first base game. Kennedy, Reark and Carey played first class games and accepted everything in sight, while it would be an impossibility to get a faster outfield than Twaddle, McNutt and C. Reark.

The Acme Athletics, of Allegheny, will cross bats with the East Liverpools for two games on Decoration Day. The team is one of the strongest around Pittsburg.

OTHER BALL GAMES.

The Crackajacks struck a snag at East Palestine, and got defeated 19 to two.

A picked nine played the Wellsville Crescents and met defeat by a score of 30 to 15. The batteries were O'Donnell and O'Hanlon for picked nine and Turner and Regar for Wellsville. Hits—picked nine, 23; Wellsville, 26; errors—picked nine, 18; Wellsville, 11.

The Athletics and Eclipse will play on the West End ground on next Thursday afternoon. The game will be a benefit for the purpose of helping the Athletics to get uniforms, and will be called at 4 o'clock. The batteries are Guthrie and Baxter and McCurran and Finch.

STRUCK THE DOCTOR WITH A MUG

A Lively Scene In the Barber Shop of W. W. Williams—The Doctor's Ear Cut. The Affair May End In Court—Both Sides of the Dispute.

There was war in a Market street barber shop this morning. The principals in the affair were W. W. Williams, the proprietor of the shop and Doctor Gardner. The latter, though well up in years, it is reputed, can still do a "turn."

The doctor entered the barber shop, according to the story of Williams, and demanded that certain rent receipts in the possession of the latter person be turned over to him. This Williams refused to do, whereupon, he asserts, Doctor Gardner assuming a threatening attitude, became very abusive and from his manner indicated that he was going to assault the proprietor.

Williams then ordered the doctor to leave the premises, and the medical man, refusing to do so, commenced to advance toward him. Williams then picked up a glass mug to protect himself, and with all the force at his command, threw it at the doctor, striking him on the ear. The doctor fell and before he could rise, the indignant barber administered sundry kicks on the person of the prostrate physician, with the result that the latter landed out on the street. During the melee a large mirror was smashed. The wound in Doctor Gardner's ear bled profusely for some time, but was bandaged up and the flow of blood staunched.

The reporter called at the doctor's residence and obtained his version of the affair. In substance it is as follows: "I called on Williams this morning to collect back rent that he owes me. He refused to pay me, and then I asked him to show me the receipts for the months that had been paid, and he would not agree to this. He ordered me out of the shop, and I refused to go and told him I had business there. Then he grabbed up a glass and threw it at me, striking me on the ear and cutting a gash that had to be sewed up."

The outcome of the fracas will likely be settled in court.

WHERE IS HE?

A letter was received by a gentleman in the city this morning, asking him to ascertain, if possible, the whereabouts of the inquirer's father, Obadiah Handcock. The missing one was a printer by trade, and was a county or township commissioner at Kittanning during the years 1867-8, and was well known to residents in that section. Any information that will lead to his whereabouts, addressed to W. C. Coatham, New Westminster, British Columbia, will be thankfully received.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr, of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He s on old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he sad. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three 50 cent bottles and believe it ito be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
